

RED TRICYCLE

Mama Needs a Break: 10 Revitalizing Mom Getaways to Book Now

Nikki Walsh

We can all agree that moms need a break and deserve to unwind once in a while! Gather a few close girlfriends (or fly solo) and go indulge in a getaway. We know proximity is important and time is of the essence, so we've found 10 local spots where you can escape close to home and still feel a world away. Scroll through our guide and book a trip to refresh and revive.

Kona Kai Resort

Every room has a view at this local getaway. Surely, staying at this resort you'll get a little quiet and relaxation. Not only does it have its own private beach, but you can also enjoy a mani-pedi or a relaxing facial at the spa with the girls. Even more, dine by the water at the Vessels restaurant and bar or hit up the pool's cool tiki bar during the day.

1551 Shelter Island Dr.
San Diego, Ca
619-221-8000

Cost: $104 plus per night (resort fee $25 per night)

Online: resortkonakai.com