14 Technicolor Resorts to Brighten Your Winter Blues

Kathryn Romeyn

An Arctic freeze of the sort much of North America is experiencing this winter means only one thing for lovers: It's time for a romantic getaway that will brighten things up—literally. Whether you're looking for a quick jaunt to pamper your honey, a crowd-pleasing wedding venue, a colorful escape with other couples, or the ultimate honeymoon destination, we've found 14 places so polychromatic and happy that they will eradicate any sign of winter blues. Bottom line, these places are guaranteed to be warmer, chicer, and sexier than whatever is happening at home.

Kona Kai Resort & Spa, San Diego

Funky and fresh, the new lobby at this legendary and recently expanded San Diego resort has fun pops of yellow, teal, and pink that are echoed in guest rooms boasting vivid wall coverings and ocean views. Forget all about winter when you're roasting s'mores on fire pits at the private beach.
